Battle Abbey; Confederate Museum; John Marshall's mansion; and Hollywood Cemetery. Northeast of the city occurred the bloody Seven Days Battles of 1862, and the Battles of Cold Harbor (1864), in which Grant lost 12,000 men in one hour.

SAVANNAH, GA. Georgia's oldest city and one of the most beautiful in America. Its numerous historic spots and interesting sights include: Christ Church, on the site of which John Wesley started the first Sunday school; the Savannah Theater; Sherman's headquarters; the monument to Nathanael Greene and Count Pulaski; Bonaventure Cemetery; and Telfair Academy of Arts. Seven miles southeast is Wormsloe Gardens, one of the most romantic and beautiful places in the South.

VICKSBURG, MISS. This historic city is surrounded by the Vicksburg National Military Park. In this 1,322-acre park the numerous breastworks have been well preserved, while nearly 900 tablets, monuments, and guns mark the positions occupied by the various fighting units and describe the fierce siege that lasted from May 18 to July 4, 1863. The park is beautifully landscaped and is traversed by many miles of paved roadways.

WILMINGTON, N. C. Once the principal port of the Confederacy. The old Governor's Mansion, William Hooper's home and Cornwallis' headquarters are interesting colonial buildings. The Confederate navy yard and historic Fort Fisher are on the Cape Fear River. Wrightsville and Carolina Beach are popular ocean resorts. Airlie Gardens are famous for their azaleas.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. Famed for its tobacco industry and seat of Salem College for Women, established 1772. Having left Bohemia to seek religious freedom, a band of Moravians settled here in 1753 and in 1766 founded the town of Salem. The town of Winston was founded in 1851 and the two communities became one city in 1913. Of particular interest are Wachovia Historical Museum, old Salem Tavern, Moravian Graveyard, and the Old Moravian Church, scene of the annual Easter sunrise service.
